A SCENE OF DESOLATION.

SEVENTY FIVE POUNDS OF SCATTERED FLESH

At That Remains of Nine Men--The Terrible Explosion of the DuPont Powder Works--And the Awful Consequences.

[By United Press.]

WASHINGTON, Del., Oct. 8.—A bright sun in a clear sky looked down on a scene of desolation at the yard of the DuPont Powder Works this morning. The full extent of the appalling wreck could be seen from the blackened hill toward the Brandywine, where the ruins of the magazine and powder mills, and the holes in the ground showed where the wooden mills had stood, and the shattered stone and masonry indicated the site of the stone mills. The other buildings showed the effects of destruction in scattered walls and fallen roofs. The little village on the hillside, where the operatives lived was deserted last night. Friends in the surrounding villages of Squirrel Run and Rising Sun sheltered the unfortunate, whose homes had been destroyed. A cordon of armed guards surrounded the works all night, and no one was permitted to enter. Powder in kegs, cans and casks which did not explode, but which was blown about the works, is being gathered up by the men and stored in the magazine. The stone wall of the houses are all that saved the inmates from almost certain death or fatal injury.

There are no additions to the killed, except the babe, Thomas Dougherty, aged five months, who died last night. The body of Patrick Dougherty was found in the mill race this morning badly mangled. This is the third body found. About seventy-five pounds of human flesh is all that has been gathered up of the other nine men.

AN ANGRY MAN'S ACTS.

His Wife Makes Him Mad--And He Plays The Mischief Generally.

[By United Press.]

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 8.—Charles Noppenroth, a German farmer of Plymouth township, this county, and his wife did not live happily together, and last Saturday after a quarrel, she left him with the family. This angered Noppenroth, and yesterday morning he took a heavy chain and fastened his three horses to posts in the barn, brought in all the valuable property near by, set fire to it and suddenly watched it burn to ashes. He then fired his house. The flames seemed to devour him on to further destruction. Building a rude fence around the straw stack he drove his stock into the enclosure and again applied the fire brand. The flames drove the cattle wild, and they broke down the enclosure and escaped. By this time the neighbors arrived and he was arrested.

A TERRIBLE EXPLOSION.

Four Big Boilers Blown to Pieces--And Two Men Fatally Hurt.

[By United Press.]

MUSKOGEE, Mich., Oct. 8.—A terrible explosion occurred at the Ducey Lumber Company's lower saw mill on North Side at 6 o'clock this morning, as the fireman, William Yeger, was getting up steam to start the engines. Four of the six boilers exploded with tremendous force, wrecking one-third of the building completely, and throwing the other two boilers from their foundations. Nine men were injured. Yeger, the fireman, was caught under the timbers and escaping steam scalded him terribly. He will die. A young man named Hackins is also fatally injured.

SHOES WILL COME HIGHER.

Manufacturers Will Combine--And the Price Will Be Increased.

[By United Press.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—About one hundred and thirty shoe manufacturers, representing all parts of the country, met here yesterday and decided that there must be an advance in the price of shoes. This decision was reached only after a long discussion. It was said that the advance would be from 25 to 50 cts. a pair.

A Bunco Steerer Buncoed.

[By United Press.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—James Hapley and Robert D. George, the two Alabamians who buncoed a bunco steerer out of $1,700, were arraigned this morning, charged with carrying a small arsenal at the time of their arrest. Both pleaded guilty and were fined $10 each, which they promptly paid and walked out of court. Hapley said he would make a legal fight for the $1,700 which is now in possession of the property clerk at police headquarters.

A Great Scheme to Pool Cotton Mills.

[By United Press.]

MONTREAL, Oct. 8.—Messrs. A. F. Gault and David Morrice are engaged in securing control of all the cotton mills working on gray goods in the country, so as to place them under one ownership.

RUBE BURROWS' CAREER ENDED.

The Famous Southern Outlaw and Train Robber Shot and Killed--While Making a Desperate and Almost Successful Effort to Escape.

[By United Press.]

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 8.—Rube Burrows, the noted outlaw and train robber, who was captured yesterday and jailed at Linden, Ala., was shot and killed about day light this morning by J. C. Carter, one of his captors. Last night Burrows was placed in the sheriff's office inside the jail under guard of a man named McDuffee, one of his captors, and a negro named Carter. The other captor was at the hotel with the money found on Burrows' person when he was arrested. The outlaw's hands and feet were tied and every precaution taken to prevent his getting away.

Early this morning he complained of hunger. McDuffee answered that he had nothing to eat. A pair of saddle bags which had been taken from the prisoner were lying in the room. Looking toward them in careless sort of way the outlaw said, "I have some crackers in my saddlebags if you will hand them to me."

McDuffee suspected nothing and handed the saddlebags over without opening them. Burrows, instead of crackers, drew forth a pair of pistols and covering McDuffee and the negro ordered them to untie him, which they did and keeping them in front of him, he walked out of the front door. He then asked for his money and started toward the hotel to recover it of Carter, who had the money. The latter of course, was greatly surprised to see Burrows, whom he supposed was bound hand and foot in jail. Burrows drew his revolver and demanded the money. Both then opened fire and Burrows was killed, while Carter received an ugly wound in the breast.

The news of the affair has created intense excitement. Carter is a hero. The extent of his injuries is not known at present.

THE BITTER BITTEN.

Or How Two Alabamians Beat a Green Goods Man at His Own Game.

[By United Press.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—There are in custody in this city James H. Hapley and Robert D. George, two interesting young gentlemen from Alabama who are accused of theft, but who more likely have succeeded in accomplishing the almost impossible, in getting the best of a green goods swindler. From their appearance the men would never be mistaken for anything but Southern farmers.

Last Saturday evening a detective was standing before the main entrance of the Hudson River Railroad depot, and he was approached by a man who asked if he were a policeman.

The man said his name was Thomas Eaton, and that two men, who were about to leave, had robbed a friend of his of $800. Upon entering the waiting room with the detective and a policeman, Eaton pointed out Hapley and George as the guilty persons. The men had bought tickets for Louisville and were about to board the train. They were arrested and taken to the station house.

The prisoners said they were both of Monroeville, Ala., and had arrived in New York a few days ago. Upon being searched $1,275, two 42 calibre revolvers, and a number of green goods, circulars and letters were found upon the person of Hapley, while upon George was found $484, two similar revolvers and several packages of crisp green paper, cut the size of bank notes.

Eaton suddenly disappeared, and when the case was called was nowhere to be found.

Detective McMahon made a search for Eaton and found that the address given him was fictitious. The detective and police say the case is one of a swindler being beaten at his own game.

Hapley and George had been swindled at a green goods game and went to New York to get even. They undoubtedly knew the whole trick. Without a fatal result, the case is similar to that of Holland, the Texan, who shot The Davis a few years ago. If this sort of business continues the green goods men will have to change their tactics.

THE DOUBLE MURDER.

Additional Particulars of the Terrible Tragedy.

Tuesday's CHRONICLE contained an account of the double murder at Anlander. The Tarboro Southerner of yesterday gives the following ### Additional Particulars.

A gentleman from Anlander states that Mr. Atkins was sitting on his steps Saturday night, washing his feet, when a negro, who was afterwards recognized, slipped up and struck him on the head, inflicting the fatal blow.

The negro went into the house and struck Mr. Atkins' mother and killed her, and another lady, who was in the house at the time, saw him and recognized him. After robbing them of $90 and a suit of clothes, he walked out of the house and struck the old gentleman, who was then lying on the ground, another blow and fled.

A hole was found in Mr. Atkins' head large enough to put one's fist in. The gentleman who gave the reporter this information says that this negro had served some time in the penitentiary and was considered a most desperate character.

To accomplish this robbery the negro stole a mule and rode to the house, and on returning tied him out in the woods. The mule is almost dead from having been ridden so hard.

Diligent search has already been prosecuted and all efforts will be made to apprehend him.

Mr. Atkins' death will be greatly deplored, for he was said to have been one of the best old gentlemen in the county.

Description of Negro.

The negro is of dark complexion with a large scar on one side of his face and another on his forehead, weighs about 170 pounds and stoops somewhat in his walk.

IN ROCKINGHAM.

The State Y. M. C. A. Convention--On the Wing For a Pleasure Tour--A Mixed Ticket Which is a Delusion and a Snare.

(Special Cor. to STATE CHRONICLE.)

REIDSVILLE, N. C., Oct. 8.—The State convention of the Young Men's Christian Association meets in Reidsville on the 17th, 18th and 19th of this month. Preparations are being made to accommodate the large crowd expected.

Hon. J. C. Baxton, of Winston, is in our city to-day.

The Mianie Seward Comedy Company played at Ellington's opera house Monday and Tuesday nights to fair houses. Two negroes, by the name of Dick Harris and Sydney Thomas, who stay at King & Hazell's livery stable, had a difficulty to-day, in which Harris was knocked down with a board by Thomas. Harris afterwards secured a pistol and fired three shots at Thomas, but missed his mark. They were bound over to appear at the next term of the Superior court.

Misses Lida Drane and Margaret Bush, of Pittsboro, passed through Reidsville last night on a pleasure trip to New York and Boston. Quite a host of Reidsville's society young people were at the depot to meet these popular young ladies.

Never did Reidsville feel more encouraged over its tobacco market than at present. Since the first of October, the beginning of the new tobacco year, the town has been choke full of the weed, our dealers having about as much as they could handle. Every day has had full sales, lasting all day and some days it being impossible to get around at all the warehouses without running double sales. The crop is bringing good prices. It is of good quality and weighs heavy. Every thing seems favorable and if prices hold up the country around here will be flooded with money. Some days Reidsville pays out as much as $10,000 to the farmers for tobacco. More storage warehouses are badly needed here.

Politics is not in quite so good a condition as we would like to have it in this county, though we intend to give a bigger Democratic majority than we have given for several years.

Up to this date the Republicans have put out no ticket, but to-day some Republicans and Independents have announced what they call an Alliance ticket, composed of that mixture. They met the regular Democratic nominees to-day at Oregon. This ticket is a delusion and is simply put out in order to try and catch a few of the napping Alliance Democrats so as to defeat Vance. The following is the ticket: W. D. Wall, Senator; W. R. Lindsay and W. K. Davis, House of Representatives.

Thos. S. Malloy, clerk.

James Roach, register.

The Democratic ticket is composed of as good Alliance men as are in the county, one of the nominees, Captain Henry, being Vice President of the County Alliance.

Ex-Gov. Thos. J. Jarvis made one of the strongest Democratic speeches here last Friday that it has ever been the pleasure of the Reidsville folks to listen to. A large and attentive crowd was out to hear him. It was a telling speech and no doubt accomplished much good.

CAPT. ALEXANDER'S APPOINTMENTS.

(Wilmington Messenger.)

The Democratic Executive Committee of the Sixth Congressional District met in this city at The Orton yesterday to make the appointments for the canvass in the several counties of the district by Capt. Syd. B. Alexander, our nominee for a seat in the Fifty Second Congress. W. H. Neal, Esq., of Laurinburg, chairman of the committee presided, and Mr. Jerome Dowd, of Mecklenburg county, acted as secretary. Mayor John J. Fowler, of this city, represented New Hanover on the committee.

After discussing the plans of the campaign, the committee made the following appointments for Capt. Alexander to address the voters of the several counties in the district.

New Hanover county--Wilmington, the night of October 20th; some other place in the county, October 21st.

Anson County--Wadesboro, October 14; some other place in the county, October 15th.

Richmond County--Laurinburg, October 16th; Rockingham, October 17th; some other place in the county, October 18th.

Columbus County--Whiteville, October 22nd.

Runswick County--Maxton, October 23.

Brunswick County--Southport, October 24th; Shallotte, October 25; McPherson's store, October 27th.

Stanly County--Albemarle, October 29th.

Cabarrus county--Concord, November 1st.

Other appointments will be announced by the committee later on.

The Hon. Chas. M. Stedman, having been requested to enter the canvass will accompany Capt. Alexander and will speak at several points in the district. The committee will also request the Hon. G. W. Sanderlin, of Raleigh, and Capt. R. B. Hunter, of Mecklenburg, to take part in the canvass.

Egyptian Cotton.

[By United Press.]

CAIRO, Oct. 8.—The cotton association has issued its report for September. It states that the first picking of the Egyptian cotton crop has been concluded. The cotton is of very good quality and the yield is estimated to be 325,000 cantars.

They are Easy to See.

Yesterday a whirlwind of buyers struck the lately-come Novelty Dress Goods, yet heaps are left if you are quick, for every day will be like yesterday, at

NEGRO VS. NEGRO.

THE MOTTO IS: NO WHITE MAN NEED APPLY.

The Day Has Come When the Negroes Carry Out Their Claim: "We are the Republican Party in North Carolina."

[Special Cor. STATE CHRONICLE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 7.—The Wilmington white Republicans have fixed up a shrewd game on Jim Young by which they will probably win in the fight now going on. They have endorsed another negro, Deputy Collector Taylor, now acting Collector, and are pressing his nomination with reasonable chances of success.

A delegation of Wilmington Republicans waited on the President before he left for his Western trip and told him Jim Young was a stranger to their city and its business methods, while Taylor, as the late Captain Pennypacker's deputy, was in the direct line of promotion, was a negro whose elevation would be appreciated by his race, and was well qualified to fill the bill. They also claimed, as I stated in a recent letter, that the Wilmington Republicans were perhaps the most representative body of Republicans in the State, and therefore entitled to his especial consideration in regard to this important local appointment. This delegation was led by Gen. Manning. Soon after the Wilmington crowd left, Plummer Cheatham, Bishop Hood (colored) and Jim Young called. Harrison told them the matter would not be considered until he returned to the city about two weeks hence. Col. "Q" Young's ambition is at the bottom of Jim Young's nomination. He has wanted the Congressional nomination from the "Black" district for years, and Jim Young was hoisted into this Collectorship in order to make political capital for Col. R. E. Young with the negro voters. I understand that the Wilmington contingent will probably win the day, and that the treasury officials are already impressed with their presentation of the case. The fact that they have brought out the negro Taylor as their candidate is very much in their favor.

Mr. Exum P. Lewis, of Edgecombe county, one of the most intellectual men I ever met, resigned a $1,200 place in the War Department, to accept an honorary scholarship from John's Hopkins University, last Monday. On leaving the department his entire division called in a body with resolutions of esteem and presented him with a handsome diamond pin and diamond sleeve buttons. A promotion was held out to him as a temptation to remain in the department. He will take the degree of Ph. D. at Johns Hopkins, and I predict the day is not far distant when his State will be proud of him. He is entirely self-made, his father, the late Dr. Henry Exum Lewis, having died when he was a mere lad. He went through a course here at the Columbian University at his own expense and with high honors. He belongs to an old and wealthy family who lost everything by the war. He has many relatives in the State, among whom are Dr. Richard Lewis of your city, General Gaston Lewis, and Mr. T. E. Lewis of Tarboro.

Wilkes' Democratic Convention.

(Special to STATE CHRONICLE.)

WILKESBORO, N. C., Oct. 6.—The Democrats of Wilkes county met in convention to-day and organized by electing John S. Forester chairman, and J. B. Leach and R. A. Deal, of the CHRONICLE, secretaries. The following ticket was nominated: For Legislature--C. C. Wright. " Clerk--P. E. Dancy. " Sheriff--John E. McEwen. " Register--W. H. Carter. " Surveyor--Wesley Jones. " Coroner--Joel Triplett. It is a most excellent ticket, and everybody is enthusiastic over it. The Democracy in Wilkes is in good shape and, with the excellent ticket nominated, we stand a good show of carrying the county.

[We understand that the nomination of Mr. Wright is a very strong one. He is a leading member of the Alliance and a popular public school teacher.]

A DAILY NEWS CARRIER MANGLED.

(Charlotte News.)

Deplorable Accident Near the Furniture Factory--Little Toy Rollins Fatally Crushed.

Toy Rollins, one of the News' carriers in Ward 1, was run over and dreadfully mangled by a freight train on the Carolina Central road this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Engineer Muse was coming into the city with a lot of freight cars. As the train passed the furniture factory young Rollins, who was then on his way to The News office to get his evening's route, got on one of the cars. He was hanging to the side when a telegraph pole knocked him off. He fell under the wheels and two cars ran over him. Both of his legs were cut off above the knees and his right hand was also cut off. The track for a considerable distance was strewn with the little fellow's blood and bones. He was carried to the residence of Mrs. Sellers, near by, and medical attention was quickly secured. There is scarcely any hopes of his surviving his injuries.

LOUISBURG BOOMING.

Its Business Moving With Accelerated Velocity--How That Business is Frequently Demoralized by Pretty Girls.

[Special Cor. STATE CHRONICLE.]

LOUISBURG, N. C., Oct. 7.—The boom which struck our town last year has been resumed with accelerated velocity. The immense amount of fine tobacco brought into our market, the very excellent crops of cotton, &c., the building of new and larger tobacco warehouses, stores, &c., the number of new residences in process of erection, and last but not least, the increased patronage of the Louisburg Female College, have all had the effect to render the boom larger, wider and more enduring. The establishing of that institution upon its present basis had a great deal to do with increasing the business prospects of the town. Its President, Prof. S. D. Bagley, and his excellent and efficient corps of teachers have had all the effect that could be asked upon the business of the town--and the constant increase and growth of the school give us strong faith in the perpetuity of our unexcelled educational facilities. Added to this our farmers have discovered that there is no land like Franklin county land for the growth of tobacco and the very best quality. We have now three large warehouses for the sale of the "weed." One of these, a three story brick building, is 180 by 90 feet; another, frame house, 170 by 60 feet; another 60 by 150 feet, and all these houses were so crowded last week that a number could not be accommodated the first day of arrival. There were wagons of tobacco from all the adjacent counties.

Our people are also agitating the question of building a large male academy on a more modern and improved plan, the present one being too small to accommodate the patronage.

Every day strangers are seen on our streets and arriving on the trains looking for lands, and many have already made purchases. A lot in town which could have been bought last year for $400, was sold recently for $750 to an old citizen who had known it from boyhood, and he is erecting a nice residence on it. I learn that application will be made to the next Legislature to extend the corporate limits of the town. We have magnificent water power here, sufficient to run a number of factories. The erection of a cotton factory is talked about.

Bill Bife, the evangelist, will hold a series of meetings here, beginning on the 9th day of November. Our people are making arrangements to have more restaurants and sleeping places to accommodate the crowd expected. Special rates on the railroads will be asked, and no doubt given to all who wish to attend.

We have now ten trains a day, morning and afternoon. The efficient superintendent, Captain Smith, spent a day and night in our town last week, and he says the road is in first rate condition.

We all feel good over our prospects but the prettiest sight of all is the throng of beautiful girls, all in attractive and becoming uniform, from the Female College. When passing through our streets in charge of their teachers, there is a general suspension of business. Clerks, employers, all, leave their business to get a look at this entrancing sight. The CHRONICLE is the people's paper.

RADICAL POW-WOW.

The Granville Radicals Nominate a Weak Ticket--Williams Will Get 500 Majority--Decent Republicans Leaving The Party.

(Special to STATE CHRONICLE.)

OXFORD, N. C., Oct. 7th, 1890.—The Radical pow-wow is just ending in Oxford to-day.

W. Y. Jones and other reputable white men have come out openly and said they are done with the Republican party. Mr. Jones openly proclaims that if you will show him three white Republicans in the south, he will show you two white scoundrels.

The convention put out a weak and indifferent ticket.

The leaders are all against Brower. Dr. L. C. Taylor, one white Republican GENTLEMAN, was defeated for clerk and so was R. W. Lassiter, Jr., the strongest man in the party.

A. S. Covington, a weak candidate, was nominated for clerk.

Billy Furryear, a strong white candidate for register, was beaten, and the whole of northern Granville will whoop for the Democratic ticket.

Democrats are jubilant over the prospects. White men, formerly Republicans, from all over the county, are pronounced for Williams for Congress.

Two negroes are nominated for the Legislature.

While I write pandemonium is reigning in the court house, and on the street it is conceded that Williams will carry Granville by 500 votes. Let the ball roll.

South Carolina Straightouts Kicking Against a Tillman Lieutenant.

[By United Press.]

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 8.—George Washington Shell, the candidate of the Farmer's Alliance, has been nominated for Congress by the Democratic primaries in the fourth district of South Carolina. Shell was Tillman's chief lieutenant and manager of his gubernatorial campaign and hundreds of "straightout" Democrats in the district, particularly in this city, positively and openly declare that they will not vote for him.

You are no Sardine.

Of course not, but all the same a fine sardine is a good thing. Rich in flavor, not too salty, in fine oil, no bones to speak of. If you know what a good sardine is, we can supply you. Also olive oil, olives, salad dressings, fine pickles, sauces, Kipperd herrings, crabs, shrimps, mushrooms and all that sort of thing.
